

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoge Paulett, of Farmville, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Frank Modum Sanger, of Norfolk, Conn. The marriage will be celebrated the latter part of June.

Fashionable Card Party To-Day.
One of the largest and most important charity events of the month will be the subscription card party given at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Country Club of Virginia, under the auspices of the Harrison and Anne Page Bruce Circles for the benefit of the Shelters Arms Free Hospital. Tea will be served on the lawn and terrace of the club. The entertainment promises to be a most attractive one.

All who attend are urged to register their tables beforehand to avoid discomfort and delay, and they are also asked to bring their own cards and pencils.

Prominent Wedding.
A marriage of interest in Norfolk, and throughout the State, is that of Miss Ruth Mary Harahan, daughter of William Johnson Harahan, president of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad, and Mrs. Harahan, and Louis Frederick Miquin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Miquin, of Chicago.

The church was handsomely decorated with palms, ferns, bride roses and hydrangeas, and the altar was white roses and cathedral candles. The nuptial mass was celebrated by Bishop I. J. O'Connell, of Richmond, assisted by ten priests. A large mass was sung by a quartet from the Metropolitan Opera Company.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin and tulle, with a court train edged with point lace. Her veil of rose point lace, which was worn by her mother on her wedding day, reached to the end of the long court train and fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a shower of lilacs of the valley and orchids. Miss Susanna Harahan, a sister of the bride, was her maid of honor, and wore a gown of pale blue georgette crepe, and her flowers were a bouquet of white orchids and blue iris.

Two little sisters of the bride, Theodora and Virginia, acted as flower girls, and wore frocks of blue and white, and carried baskets filled with roses and tied with silver gauze. The bridegroom had as his best man James Harahan, a brother of the bride, and the ushers included Leighton Smith, of Belle Harbor; Richard Smith, of New York; Jefferson Davis, of Belle Harbor; and Jack McGuire, of New York.

To Give Concert Recital.
Marcus Kellerman, baritone, will give a concert recital for the benefit of the Capital City Division, Virginia Branch, National League for Women's Service, at the Jefferson Auditorium, Tuesday evening, May 29, at 8:30 o'clock.

Immediately following the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast and reception at Neponit, the home of the bride's parents. The house was decorated throughout with Killarney roses, palms, ferns and festoons of southern smilax. There were about 300 guests present. A stringed orchestra played during the breakfast, and later for dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Miquin left for an extended wedding trip, after which they will reside in Chicago.

To Give Play.
"The Old Maid's Convention" and "Ma Sweet" will be given by the Camp Fire Girls of the House of Happiness tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock. The play will take place in the auditorium of Springfield School, corner of Twenty-sixth and Leigh Streets, and the public is invited to attend.

The entertainment is for the benefit of the girls' camp. It is expected that a large audience will be present.

The Suburban Club will open its summer social season tonight with a dance at the clubhouse from 8:30 until 11:30 o'clock.

DON'T LET WIFE DIE OF LOCKJAW

Warn her against cutting corns because they can be lifted out.

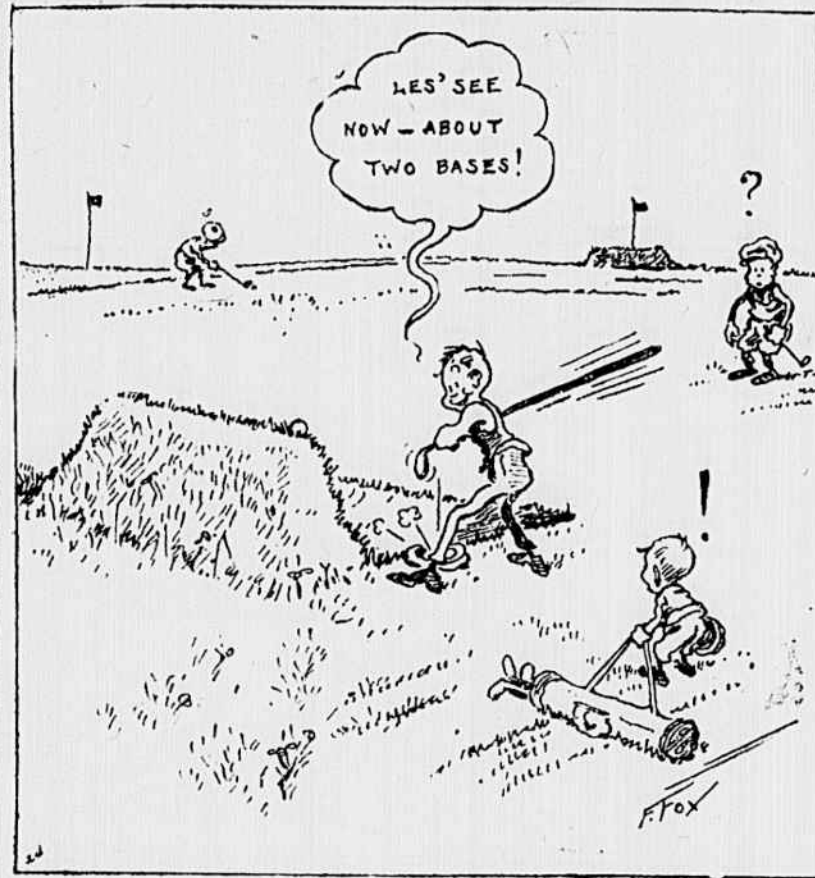

Women wear high heels which bubble up their toes and they suffer terribly from corns. Women then proceed to trim these pests, seeking relief, but they hardly realize the terrible danger from infection, says a Cincinnati authority.

Corns can easily be lifted out with the fingers if you will get from any drug store a quarter of an ounce of a drug called freezone. This is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. You simply apply a few drops directly upon the tender, aching corn. The soreness is relieved at once and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain.

This is a sticky substance which dries in a moment. It just shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Cut this out and pin on your wife's dresser.—Adv.

Farming in the City

Gardeners Advised to Grow Storage Onions.

Because of the advantages there will be this year in producing vegetables in home gardens for winter storage, the National Emergency Food Garden Commission advises gardeners to grow storage onions from seed where soil conditions are favorable.

The onion is high in nutritive value. There are few vegetables which on a given space will manufacture plant food, air, water and sunshine into so much human food as will the onion. It responds especially well to the intensive cultivation which a home gardener can give, and, when grown from seed and transplanted, it will allow another crop to occupy its garden bed early in the season, if the other crop is a quick maturer.

But, on the other hand, no plant needs soil so finely pulverized, so free from weeds, or any richer than does the onion. It will not do well in cloddy clay and it does its best when land has been planted to onions for three or four seasons. Therefore it is particularly recommended to those who cultivate the same garden place year after year. New gardens are not apt to produce good onions unless the soil is naturally soft and rich.

The seed should be sown at once in special beds, planting good seed thickly in rows three or four inches apart. If fertilizer is used it should be placed on top of the soil, as the onion roots feed at the surface. The seed is covered shallowly. When the plants are three to four inches high it is time to transplant them.

The ground for the plants should be carefully prepared. The tops should be trimmed off one-third. Holes for transplanting are made with a pointed stick, the plants being set out three inches apart, in rows one foot apart.
